

HAVE YOU SUFFERED FROM A STROKE?

DO YOU CONTINUE TO HAVE PAIN IN AN ARM AND/OR LEG?

A Washington University research study is looking for volunteers to test a new approach for ongoing pain after a stroke. For this study, a nerve block treatment will be provided to help determine if this is a good way to reduce your pain. The study will take about 7 hours to complete and may require 1 or 2 study visits. Up to $150 will be provided for your time and effort. Please call or email to learn more information about this research.
